

Zero Breast Cancer wins Avon Foundation grant

A local breast cancer organization won a $150,000 grant from the Avon Foundation.

Grants went to eight Bay Area organizations, including Zero Breast Cancer in San Rafael. They were part of the Avon Walk for Breast Cancer in San Francisco.

Zero Breast Cancer will use the money to fund staff and research, and continue partnerships with UCSF and the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences.

