MARIN'S BEST EVERY WEEK

MAY 12 - MAY 18, 2006

HERO

▲ On May 11, 12 students from Sir Francis Drake High were honored for helping to promote breast cancer awareness. Together with Marin Breast Cancer Watch, the dedicated dozen formed a resource program at their school designed to teach fellow teens about detection and prevention. "It was really hard to get the message across about breast cancer to other students because it doesn't affect them directly," said honoree Kate Messinger. But all involved agreed it was worth the effort. Said junior Lakvhir Gill, "It shows that even though...we are just little people in high school, we can still change things. It shows we affect the world around us."
